LORRAINE'S PILLS.

OR VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE.

CURATIVE OF THE

French College of Health, in Paris.

THE following letter was received yesterday by mail from Salem. It gives another evidence of the great success of Lorraine's Vegetable Universal Pills.

Sir—I have been for many years a sufferer from the ravages of Scrofula and Cancerous Humors, which at last seated on the vitals, and exhibited all the threatening symptoms of consumption. The general inability of all remedies awakened my enquiries as to the thousand different methods of cure, to most of which I had recourse without receiving benefit. I accidentally noticed a remarkable cure by Lorraine's Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. I sent to Boston and got a box. By the use of them I found immediate relief and was soon restored to a perfect state of health.

J. E. NEWHALL.

Salem, 21st May, 1841.

The following letter from J. B. Light, Esq. is worthy of notice.

Sir—I took one of Lorraine's Vegetable Pills last evening for a pain in my head, that had effected me for several days, occasioned by taking cold. I soon felt very calm, and quiet, and a state of general repose came on, which had great charms, and I enjoyed one of the most comfortable and refreshing nights that I ever did in my life. I rose in the morning in my usual state of health, and believe it is my duty to recommend this medicine.

Yours truly,

Nov. 20th, 1841.

[From Boston Daily Mail.]

Somebody wisely says, that a cap loaded with evils and dangers will not cure the headache, nor gold chains prevent the consumption. Lorraine's Vegetable Pills have done both.

Sir—I have been effectively cured of a severe headache by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

SARAH NOYES.

Sir—My daughter had all the threatening symptoms of a Consumption, such as cough, pain in the chest, &c., together with general debility, but has had her health restored by Lorraine's Pills.

Rev. J. KNIGHT.

New York City, Nov. 1, 1841.

Family Medicine.

Sir—I have used Lorraine's Pills in my family as a family medicine, and I would most earnestly recommend them to all persons, as the best medicine that can be procured. I would not be without them—they operate mildly, and never fail to give immediate relief. Until I used these Pills I was obliged to pay from 20m to $100 per year for medicines and physicians, since then I have had no other doctor than Dr. Lorraine's Pills.

JAMES NEAL.

Hartford, Conn. July 8.

Lame Back.

Sarah Snow was cured of a lame back in one day, when she had been unable to dress herself alone for two weeks.

Susan Jones of Boston, cured in 36 hours of lame back and side of three weeks standing.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. Bird of Providence says, that 'Lorraine's Pills have proved a real blessing to her. It has surpassed anything that has been brought to the public notice. I have been cured of a sick headache that had afflicted me for years, by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

THE CONDITION.

The condition upon which nature gives health to man, is a watchful care to keep his stomach and bowels free from morbid and unhealthy accumulations. Lorraine's Pills admirably effect this, because they cleanse the bowels and purify the blood. The human body is always healthy when the bowels are regular, the blood circulates freely, and disease invariably commences when obstructions take place in the bowels.

The extraordinary virtues of Lorraine's Pills depends upon extracts of over 50 different vegetables, all so admirably combined as to purify, nourish and invigorate the human system.

Prospects and Duties.

It is not to be denied that the prospects of the Whig party are brighter now than they have been at any time since the decease of the lamented Harrison. The terrible revolution, caused by that sad event and by the dissensions in the Whig ranks afterwards, is now at an end, and the opposite movement has commenced most opportunely and most triumphantly. Two years ago there was a perfect collapse upon the vital organs of the Whig party, which threatened, and almost produced annihilation. But the constitution of the patient was strong enough to resist even this deadly assault; it has borne him through the dread trial; he is rapidly convalescent; the reaction has commenced, and he will soon appear with the majestic power which once governed all his movements.

It is not worth while to go into a history of past disasters; let them be remembered only to teach lessons of wisdom for the future. The dissensions in the Whig party are, we sincerely hope and believe, terminated; and the future, not the past, now requires the fixed attention of all true Whigs.

Thus discomfited the Portsmouth Journal, and its editor cannot be considered an over sanguine man. The fixed attention of the Whigs of Maine should be directed to the generous support and triumphant election of members of Congress in the four vacant districts. They ought not to be satisfied with any thing short of the election of at least three out of the four. There is a cheering brightness in the Whig cause generally; there is great need of having the Whigs of Maine well represented in our national councils: there will be a new impulse given to our cause by making a successful effort now; the candidates are such as deserve and should secure an enthusiastic and patriotic determination to elect them. These, and a multitude of other considerations, urge upon the Whigs in the vacant congressional districts to turn out on Monday next—to rally in their might, and elect their men. They can do it, if they will. They ought to do it if they can.

The Enquirer complains of the hand-bill like appearance of the daily papers of this city. We agree entirely with the justness of the criticism, as to the shocking appearance a newspaper makes, when scattered over with large job type. We sin occasionally in this way for the gratification of our friends, and if pointing to still greater faults in another, would justify violations of good taste or any wrong doing, we could easily escape. A general resort to large type, by advertisers, reduces the whole to a level, and a less satisfactory level than the usual method of advertising in a neat and attractive manner.

There is a great deal of skill often displayed in writing an advertisement, and many of our customers do so hit the mark and give so happy a cue to the whole matter, that people not only read the notice in a modest type, but it lodges and sticks in the mind so that they cannot forget it. We think it would be well for all who advertise to confine themselves to the capacity of the one column system. These notices are more likely to be read, and the subject of them thought upon.

Widow of Capt. George H. Hughes.

On Saturday, we published an article making inquiries concerning the residence of the widow of the late Capt. George H. Hughes. In a few hours after our paper was circulated, we received information that the widow Hughes is now residing at Wiscasset, in this State; that she is a very worthy and industrious woman, and has been for some time engaged in teaching a school. The information contained in our article has been conveyed to her, and we are happy to be able to state that the prospect is very good of her receiving several thousand dollars from the Mexican government. This sum will aid her in the noble work of educating her family, and providing comfortably for her declining days.

At the great loco-foco nominating convention in New York city a few evenings since, the several sections into which that party is broken struggled for the ascendancy. Two divisions organized and made their nominations, and then the party on the platform drove off the party on the steps of the city hall. The last destructive element of loco-focoism is self-destruction, and to that it is rapidly approaching.

At the great Whig nominating convention held in New York city, a few days since, a list of candidates was harmoniously agreed upon. The meeting was enthusiastic in favor of union and harmony for the good of the whig cause.

A merchant by the name of Henry J. B. of New York, was stabbed in that city on Wednesday night by a girl named Amelia B. Her reason for so doing is said to be that he seduced and ruined, and then abandoned her.

The New Haven Herald says that the Rev. John Robb, late Superintendent of the Armory at Springfield, and Rev. R. B. Gurley, late Secretary of the American Colonization Society, have been appointed Chaplains in the Navy.

Two days later from England.

The packet ship Liverpool, Capt. Eldridge, arrived at New York Friday afternoon, with Liverpool dates to the 6th.

The riots in Rosshire have assumed such a serious aspect that we understand 200 troops have been ordered to Rosshire, and are at present on their march thither.

The arrival of the next Overland Mail from India and China was looked for with a great deal of interest.

The Moniteur Algerin of the 15th announces the death, on the 13th, of Rear Admiral Faure, commander of the navy in Algeria.

The Cologne Gazette announces that the new Prince of Serbia had proclaimed an amnesty in favor of all persons banished from his dominions on account of their political offences.

A letter from Beyrouth states that the convent of Arcissa, in the Lebanon, had been attacked and plundered by the Metauls. Two of the Maronite clergy were murdered, and the authorities had sent troops in pursuit of the miscreants.

Important from Mexico.

By an arrival at New Orleans, the intelligence of the misunderstanding between the government of Mexico and England is fully confirmed. At present the affair looks as if Santa Ana would soon have the English thundering about his ears.

It will be recollected that some time since the displeasure of the English Minister was excited at a public ball in the city of Mexico. That subject has caused so much irritation that the citizens of Vera Cruz are apprehensive that the first news they will have will be the arrival of an English fleet.

There was a rumor in Vera Cruz that an angry correspondence had taken place between our Minister and the Mexican Government, on the subject of the annexations of Texas to this Union.

Fire in Boston.

On Saturday morning a fire broke out in the Stables attached to the Exchange Coffee House which were nearly destroyed together with a quantity of hay, and other property. The supposed incendiary was seized and lodged in jail. Several adjacent buildings were partially burnt. Damage $5000.

The Express brought no papers on Saturday and what the passengers brought they kept to themselves. The Newspaper Mail was lost in Troy between Augusta and this city and was brought in on a wagon sometime during the night.

The schooner Canton, of this port, Fowler, from St. Peters, Martineque, for Picton, in ballast, is reported as wrecked at Green Island on the 24th ult. Crew saved nothing but what they had on. About $2000 in specie was lost. No insurance on vessel.

At the loco congressional convention at Columbia on Saturday, Shepard Carey received the nomination at the third ballot.

The Boston Post states that John Rand and his brother Richard have been arrested on a charge of robbing the Quincy stage, a few days since of $4000.

We learn that Doct. Foss, recently tried at Augusta on a charge of murder, has been acquitted.

The examination of Louis Fasset, for killing Tutor Dwight, terminated at New Haven Oct. 31, and he was ordered to give bonds in the sum of five thousand dollars, for his appearance before the superior court in January.

The Delaware State Journal announces the death, on the 28th ult., of the Hon. Thomas Robinson, of Sussex county, late member of Congress from Delaware, after an illness of four years.

There was a large meeting held in State street, Boston, on Thursday evening last, to demonstrate against the arrest and imprisonment of Thomas W. Dorri, in Rhode Island.

We learn from the Post that Rev. Mr. Pierpont has sued the Hollis street church proprietors for another year's salary, and attached the real estate therefor.

Ex-President Adams arrived in Buffalo on Saturday, 28th, and on Monday morning took passage in the steamer Gen. Wayne for Erie, on his route to Cincinnati.

THIRTY YEARS FROM HOME, OR A VOICE FROM THE MAIN DECK: being the experience of Samuel Leech, who was for six years in the British and American Navies: was captured in the British frigate Macedonian; afterwards entered the American Navy, and was taken in the U. S. brig Syren, by the British ship Medway. Embellished with engravings. Boston: Published by Tappan & Dennet.

Books on the incidents of a seaman's life have become quite common and are on the increase. They possess great interest for all and particularly for young mind. The narrative of Mr. Leech is written in the plain unostentatious style of a deep feeling and sober thinking old sailor who has seen a great variety of sea service, enjoyed its pleasures, and suffered its hardships, until all his high wrought imaginings, although well remembered and faithfully portrayed have sobered down into the stern realities of real life upon the ocean.

The title page at the head of this article, succinctly sets forth the opportunities which the author has had for observation, and after a careful perusal of the work as well as from the best of testimony to the fact, we may say that he has well improved his means, and given a truthful and vivid picture of ocean life and incident.

This work is for sale at Mr. E. F. Duren's Book Store.

Young Men's Bible Society of Bangor.

Pursuant to a previous notice, a public meeting was held in the vestry of the Methodist Chapel, in this city, on Monday evening, Oct. 23d, to take into consideration the subject of forming a Young Men's Bible Society, to promote the circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment. Henry Little was called to the chair, and William Sandford chosen Secretary.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. Maltby. The object of the meeting having been stated by the Rev. Mr. Lane, on motion, Voted, That it is expedient to form a Young Men's Bible Society in this city.

A committee was appointed to draft a constitution. The meeting was then adjourned to Friday evening, Nov. 3, to meet at the vestry of Rev. Mr. Pomroy's Meeting house.

Met pursuant to adjournment. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Lane.

Mr. Walker, chairman of the committee to draft a constitution, reported a draft, which was adopted.

The following persons were appointed officers of the Society.

CHARLES GODFREY JR., President.
ISAAC A. HATCH, Vice President,

ORIGINAL.

The Grave.

"SHE GOETH TO THE GRAVE TO WEEP THERE." Sweet is the place where rest our loved ones. There The heart may freely pour its sorrows. There No eye but God's and those of spirits pure In God's own purity, are fixed upon us. There, yes there, does not the spirit meet And commune with our spirits, which, in life, Shared with us every care—joyed with our joy—Wept with our sorrow—soothed and consoled Each pressing grief—and made us e'en most blest, When least the world would count us so?

Yes; there

We hear a voice which others hear not. There We feel a hand which none who have not felt The sundering stroke which maketh one heart, train, Can ever feel.

O, Heaven could be no Heaven To that loved one, might she not come to meet And minister to him whom but to bless She never met! I meet her there. And when With grief oppressed; when the world smites me—Disappoints my hopes—crosses my path, or Plants it thick with thorns; when I seek in vain For sympathy in hearts selfishly yet In the world's prospects throbbing, caring for And loving only earthly joy; 'tis then, Even then, to her grave I go. Silence there, And quiet, wait the spirit. Each tree, Each shrub, each leaf, seems awed to stillness there; And the cold marble seems listening, as if To catch the voices from the spirit-world. They come! they come! angelic whispers! Bow, In holy fervor bow, and worship God!

A thrill divine steals o'er my soul, and lifts My heart to heavenly musings. Earth fades, And all its glories vanish. Heaven opens, The heart assimilates to things unseen, Eternal, far surpassing earthly glory.

'Tis not alone to weep—'tis to rejoice, The stricken mourner seeks the grave. He goes To feed a hope immortal: upward to lift The beaming eye of faith: to animate A new love which taketh hold on Heaven. Go, then, thou stricken one, go to the grave, And while thou weapest, let thy heart commune With Heaven, and with thy loved ones treasured there.

Not at the grave of Lazarus alone Was Christ, the Resurrection, met. Where'er Our sated ones repose, there may we go, And meet Him there to raise the spirit loved, To hold communion with us. Thanks to God For His unspeakable gifts: nor least For this which gives us back our friends.

The Spirit of the True Reformer.

Throughout the whole civilized world the watch-words at present are, improvement, progress, reform. And these words are daily uttered with louder and deeper tones, and more resolute determination. The spirit of reform was, perhaps, never so active in the minds of the whole human family, as it now is. Its deep murmurings are heard throughout agitated England and Ireland: it moves over France, and it dictates the policy of her sagacious monarch; it animates all Germany; it sweeps along the sunny plains of Italy; it overturns a dynasty, and effects a revolution in a day on the classic soil of Greece. Here in free America, it moves on calmly and steadily, unobstructed by any of the difficult barriers which ages of error have thrown across its path in the old world. Whether this all pervading spirit of reform shall result in great good or great evil to the human race, must depend upon the degree of judgment and integrity with which it is conducted.

Those who are charmed at the idea of reform, who tremble at its approach, and prefer to endure the evils of old systems, rather than run the risk of disturbing them, regard the reformer as a dangerous character, reckless of the peace and good order of society, and seeking to involve society in lawless anarchy. But nothing is farther from the spirit of the true reformer. He seeks to establish law, and to maintain order by securing to each member of the community all his just and equal rights. He does not seek or expect to do this by rash, reckless or impracticable means. He looks back to all that has been done towards ameliorating the condition of the race during ages that have passed away; and he looks forward with patience and courage and hope to all that is to be accomplished in ages to come. He thus comprehends the magnitude of the work. He sees that each generation must be exhausted before all can be done. In his measures he regards the world as it is, and adopts his plans with prudence and wisdom to the actual instead of to an ideal state of things. In short, he toils with ceaseless energy to do all that devolves upon him in his day and generation, by advancing the great cause of humanity as far as in him lies. But beyond this he dare not go, lest by rashly attempting more than it is possible to accomplish, he jeopardizes all and thus becomes a stumbling block in the way of the cause which he professes to uphold.

MARRIED.

FARM FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale, that tract of land known as the Todd farm in the town of Chester. It is pleasantly situated on the river about four miles above Lincoln village and consists of about 65 acres mostly excellent tillage land including eight or ten acres of intervals. There is a small house upon it somewhat out of repair and a moderate sized barn. To an experienced and practical Farmer, who would improve it himself, this Farm would be highly valuable, as it will yield with suitable cultivation a large crop of Hay and Grain, which in that situation must always command a market at good prices. It will be sold on reasonable terms on application to me at Bangor.
